Program Summary

The Theme of 2018 is "Sankalp Se Siddhi" - India celebrates National Youth Day on January 12th every year to commemorate the birth anniversary of Swami Vivekananda, a great Indian philosopher, and a youth icon. The day aims to inspire and motivate young people to work towards the betterment of the nation and to follow the teachings of Swami Vivekananda. On National Youth Day, various programs and events are organized across the country to celebrate the occasion. At Padmashree Institute of Management and Sciences, Youth Day is celebrated by organising seminars, and cultural programs to spread awareness about the significance of the day and inspire young people to contribute to society. Students are enlightened about the events and campaigns on National Youth Day by Government of India. The Ministry of Youth Affairs and Sports, in collaboration with various organizations, launches campaigns to promote sports, fitness, and healthy living among young people. Institute also encourages young people to participate and screen students for nominating to participate in national youth day competitions organized by University and Government.

Program summary

An ethnic day is a celebration or event where students celebrate and showcase the cultural diversity of their respective regions or countries. In the case of an ethnic day celebration in India, students from different states of India come together and exhibit the cultural diversity of their respective states through various performances and displays. Students from other states like Maharashtra, Rajasthan, West Bengal, and Assam showcased their unique cultural traditions through their performances, clothing, and food. The celebration of an ethnic day provides an opportunity for students to learn about and appreciate the diverse cultures of their fellow classmates and to promote cultural understanding and unity. It also provides a platform for students to express their pride in their cultural heritage and showcase it to a wider audience. An ethnic day celebration can be a fun and educational event that promotes cultural diversity and inclusivity.

Program summary

On June 5th, our educational institute celebrated World Environment Day with various activities aimed at raising awareness about environmental issues and promoting sustainable practices. The day started with a morning assembly where the principal addressed the students and emphasized the importance of taking care of the environment. During this event students sang community enlightening songs with respect to cleaning and planting of saplings in and around the campus. As a part of this program students also participated in campus cleaning and the participants collected a significant amount of litter and waste. Finally, the day ended with a panel discussion on sustainable practices, featuring local environmental experts. The panellists discussed various topics such as sustainable agriculture, water conservation, and waste management. The World Environment Day celebration was a great success and helped raise awareness about the importance of environmental conservation and sustainability. The students and staff were inspired to act and make positive changes in their daily lives to help protect the environment.
